

45 Atlantans We Love

[Special 45th Anniversary Issue]

Atlanta

Tyler Perry
Sanjay Gupta
The Spelbots
Shirley Franklin
Jeff Francoeur
Rob del Bueno
Warrick Dunn
Baton Bob
Sara Blakely
Stephen Bright

Ciara >>

and a host of heroes, hotties & intellectual heavyweights

Pop princess Ciara, CNN surgeon Sanjay Gupta and Spanx inventor Sara Blakely >>

ATLANTA LOOK

Cribs

B. Braithwaite outfits the sophisticated nursery.

POSH PARENTS-TO-BE HAVE A NEW DESTINATION: B. Braithwaite, the non-fussy new baby boutique owned by interior designer Nancy Braithwaite and her daughter, Chaffee.

Like its owners, B. Braithwaite is all about breezy calm, from the bleached floorboards to the glossy white light fixtures to the oversized bear and bunny topiaries out front.

Flanking several big round tables filled with chic diaper bags, clothing and fuzzy teddies are half a dozen actual nurseries, outfitted with everything from customized window treatments to crib linens to stylish toys.

The boutique is stocked with clean-lined furniture from small, hip design houses like Netto Collection, Stokke and the spanking-new DucDuc, maker of Mondrian-like cribs that can be outfitted with custom-colored panels. "We show you how to design a room," says Chaffee.

Perhaps the most charming are the pieces designed by Nancy Braithwaite herself, such as tiny Crypton suede armchairs or an elegant, tall four-poster crib accented with simple, round finials and a flat canopy of checked linen for $1,823.

There are also offerings for young families on a budget, such as a simple Stokke bassinet that can be expanded into an oval crib.

"You can use a quilt on a table you already have instead of buying a changing table," Chaffee adds, pointing to a lovely example. And if you want that quilt customized with your baby's monogram? Well, the Braithwaites can help you with that too. —Elizabeth Lenhard [1198 Howell Mill Road, Suite 110, 404-605-0963, bbraithwaite.com]

prime finds

Baby CZ pink linen tunic, $49

Georgia Baby pewter cup, $29

Ralph Lauren Layette black patent shoes, $37.50

Baby CZ blue and white stripe sweater, $50.50

Time Out Terrier, $22